Commander Criticised in Manila for Heavy American Loss, but President Compliments Him and His Men on a Brittiant Feat-No Report of Men Lost.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
MANILA, March 10.—The fight between the American troops under Gen. Wood and the 600 Moros who had fortided themselves on Mount Dajo, in the island of Jolo, was a battle of extermination. No further fighting in Jolo is expected and Gen. Wood is returning to Manila. The work of the American forces was thorough. They fought their way up the precipitous sides of the lava cone, surrounded the natives in the crater, cutting off all who tried to escape, and killed them to the last man. The Sulta of Jolo has expressed his satisfaction at the extermination of a gang of robbers which he had been unable to control. Gen. Wood is criticised for sacrificing men in an assault when a short siege of the mountain top where the natives were fortified would inevitably have resulted in their surrender. Gen. Lawton and Capt. Pershing in their campaigns against the Moros under similar circumstances used the less spectacular but less bloody tactics with

All the American wounded will recover. The most seriously injured is First Lieut. Gordon Johnston of the Signal Corps. A slug pierced his clavicle while he was gallantly scaling the wall of the Moro cotta, or fort, and he was blown off the parapet by an explosion. He will be in the hospital probably for two months.

CHASE UP THE MOUNTAIN SIDE.

The battle began on Tuesday afternoon with skirmishing in the brush at the base of the volcano. Col. Duncan of the Sixth Infantry, who was in command of the operations, formed his men in three columns. and the outlaw Moros were slowly chased up the mountain side. Trails had to be disregarded and the Americans fought their way the slopes through brush and under a rain of Moro bullets.

ne advance met with a temporary check on the upper lava ridges, which are heavily Col. Duncan here deployed six troops of the Fourth Cavalry, dismounted, eight companies of infantry, the naval detachment and the constabulary.

Then followed half a day of fighting in the scorching sun, the Moros enjoying the shelter of strong fortifications, which were not more than half visible to the storming party. Gradually a few squads pierced the Moro line and flanked their trenches and forced the outlaws up the mountain.

Fighting their way up the precipitous sides of the cone, the Americans were exposed to a rain of rocks and sharp pieces of lava, with which the Moros peppered the narrow trails

MOROS TRAPPED AND SLAIN.

A part of the attacking force at last captured a position on the lip of the crater. A block and tackle was rigged, and to this position, which commanded the Moros' final stronghold within the crater, the men of the Twenty-eighth Field Artillery painfully dragged a battery of mountain guns.

The Moros fled over the lip into the broad crater, where they were in a trap. The surface of the crater was half covered with trees and formed a magnificent battlefield.

The American troops overwhelmed the Moros, drawing in upon them in a constantly decreasing circle and killing all who at-tempted to break through and escape. They finally annihilated the fanatical rem-

It is estimated that 150 of the outlaws were armed with guns. The rest had bolos and spears.

PRESIDENT THANKS THE TROOPS.

WASHINGTON, March 10 .- President Roosevelt to-day sent the following telegram to Major-Gen. Leonard Wood, commanding the Philippine division:

I congratulate you and the men of your command upon the brilliant feat of arms wherein you and they so well upheld the honor of the American flag. "THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Officers of the Government here see no reason why there should be further trouble with the natives in Jolo. The Moros differ greatly from all other Filipinos, and their inclination to submit to none but native rule was shown to the Spaniards long before Americans set foot upon the soil of Jolo or other Moro country. The Spaniards put a wall around the town of Jolo, and on account of the hostility of the natives were never safe outside the wall. There have been numerous engagements in and around Jolo and many natives have been killed there.

The Mo ro style of fighting differs materially from that of the natives in any other part of the islands. Elsewhere it is a guerrilla warfare, but the Moros in time of trouble gather in large force in one place, usually in a cotta, or fort, and there resist to the death. When the Americans went to Jolo the policy of the Spaniards was not followed, and American troops were sent to all parts of the islands. The dattos have been infuriated lever since and have lost no opportunity to cause trouble for the American soldiers.

In the Moro country a serious engagement usually brings an end to outlawism, but such is not the case in other parts of the islands where the nati ves must be chased over mountains, down valleys and through jungles, with probably a majority escaping and ready to keep up the fighting. In Jolo, however, the dattos gathered their forces in the crater of Mount Dajo and there resisted the American attack. There is no doubt about the inclination of the Moro to fight, and he usually does so until he is either killed or victorious. In this recent action the Moros were apparently all killed. The War Department is waiting for a despatch from Major-Gen. Wood, giving a list of the enlisted men killed and wounded and the troops engaged in the battle.

Officers of the Department consider it probable that Gen. Wood will send the list of killed and wounded, together with further details of the fight, from Zamboanga, headquarters of the Department of Mindanao, to Manila by mail. It will then be cabled to Washington. If this course is taken it will be several days before anything further is heard. There is ashle line leading out of Jolo and going to Manua, but it is now broken.

AS WASHINGTON VIEWS THE BATTLE. Officers of the Department are inclined to think that although the American forces had fifteen killed and fifty-two wounded the total casualties were slight considering the number of troops engaged and the difficult conditions under which they stormed Mount Dajo. The engagement is considered one of the greatest since the insurrection and will doubtless result in the commendation of a number of the

Col. Duncan, who commanded the attack ing forces, seems to be entitled to especial praise, for his efforts were most successful. While there have been no details as to the plan of attack the Sixth Infantry must have gone up the side of the mountain first in

Some of the foot troops doubtless remained in the rear, somewhat covering the advance of their comrades in front by a careful fire on any of the hostile Moros who ventured to put their heads over the edge of the crater in which they were forti-

The accuracy of the fire of the American troops is so much greater than that of the Filipinos that there can be no doubt that the advance of the skirmishers to close quarters was well covered.

Once near the top the infantry doubtless had to wait for the field artillery. This branch, with the light mountain rapid fire guns, came on behind. Their ascent was much more difficult than that of the infantry and was probably much slower.

There was probably a final assault on the crater later on-the foot troops, including the infantry; the dismounted cavalry and artillery going up the side of the crater all at once.

The great loss of life among the natives occurred on the top of the mountain. True to their fanatical spirit the Moros fought long after there was any hope of repulsing he assaulting forces, and it was due to this that there was so great a loss of life.

As an example of the feeling of the native Moro for the American a story is told of one Imamil, a native Moro leader, who was wounded seriously and captured. He was taken in hand by an American surgeon and placed on the operating table. He was still rebellious and his last act in life was to rise from the operating table and throw his betel box, a small affair such as all Filipinos carry, and which contained an extract and mixture made of betel nut, at the surgeon who was trying to save his life. The action cost Imamil his life, as he was too far gone to stand the exertion.

TRYING A POLICE CHIEF. Head of the Orange Force Hetchelled for Helping to Settle a Case.

OBANGE, N. J., March 10 .- The police committee of the Common Council held an inquiry last night that lasted until long after midnight into certain charges made by Mayor Shoenthal that a certain member of the police force, admitted by Chief of Police George P. Washer to be himself, had used money to induce a negro woman, Mrs. Louisa Barker of 10 Reock street, to withdraw a charge of assault against George A. Heaton, son of a man connected with the police department.

Young Heaton with Joseph Corby was arrested on January 27 last for forcing an entrance to the home of Mrs. Barker, assaulting her and then smashing the fur-niture. The woman chased the men in her bare feet until they were caught several blocks away by the police. The case was dismissed by the police authorities. Mrs. Corby testified that she had heard that Chief Washer had given money to Mrs. Barker. Washer had given money to Mrs. Barker and had told her not to say anything about

Mrs. Barker testified to the assault and the destruction of the furniture. Sne said she had been called to the police station by Chief Washer and that while there the chief called her husband to one side and had given him money. Chief Washer acknowledged that he had Chief Washer acknowledged that he had received money from Heaton to pay the Barkers, but said it was for damage to the furniture. He could give no satisfactory explanation as to why he had not pressed a complaint. He simply said he did not think Heaton was to biame for the row. The police records were then called for. No police records were then called for. No reason was shown in the chief's records for Heaton's discharge. Justice Bray's records were imperfect. The Justice produced a Heaton's discharge. Justice Bray's records were imperfect. The Justice produced a paper which he said was a correct account of the case. He admitted that he had written it just before the hearing. The paper was ruled out.

Mrs. Mary Dech testified that Alderman Romine had said that Mayor Shoenthal was a "statue" and was trying to break Chief Washer. This made the Mayor angry, and, pointing his finger at Romine, he said he would make good and would show the Alderman something. Mrs. Dech said that Washer had promised Barker a job on the police force if he would keep silent about the case. Mrs. Barker had said that this promise was not kept and hence she would make trouble for Heaton.

The hearing will be continued on Tuesday night.

WIDOW OF H. B. COXE TO WED. Announces Her Engagement to a Dr. Hill

of London-Both Over Fifty. PHILADELPHIA, March 10.-Mrs. Isabel B. Coxe, the widow of Henry Brinton Coxe, the millionaire coal operator, in letters to friends in this city, has announced her engagement to a Dr. Hill of London, England, who, she says, she has known for more than thirty years. The wedding is ex-than thirty years. The wedding is expected to take place in this country, probably in Philadelphia, about Easter.

The news caused much surprise, not only because Mrs. Coxe is about 60 years old, but also because she has not enjoyed good health for some years. It is to the latter fact that the engagement is credited, Mrs. Coxe has resided abroad at different times for several years, and it is thought she became attached to Dr. Hill through his heing called to treat her. bis being called to treat her.

Dr. Hill is said to be past 50 years old, and a widower with grown children. Mrs.

Coxe also has grown children. She is very wealthy.

Senator Malby Recovers From His Attack of Grip

ALBANY, March 10 .- Senator George R. Malby has so far recovered strength from his recent attack of grip that he returned to Albany to-day. He will not know for some days if his strength will permit him to resume the arduous duties of chairman of the Senate Finance Committee or whether he will have to seek further rest and turn his committee work over to some Say She Caused Woman's Death.

Emma Reich, a midwife living at 3058 Third avenue, was arrested last night charged with being implicated in the death of Mrs. Katherine Bell, 38 years old, of 352 East 118th street. Mrs. Bell died yesterday morning. The prisoner was taken to the East 126th street police station. She refused to make any statement.

The Weather.

The Atlantic coast storm and its ally from the Lake regions joined forces in the mouth of the St. Lawrence yesterday and in their passage caused gales in the Lake regions and over the north Atlantic coast, blowing off shore.

There was snow in the lower Lake regions, and squalls with rain or light snow occurred in this ection and New England.

There were scattered snowfalls in the extreme Northwest, where the pressure remained high. The temperatures went still lower over almost all the West and in the Lake regions and the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. In the Atlantic States the changes were not remarkable. panied by light rain or snow in the morning: the fternoon for the most part was fair; wind brisk to high westerly; average humidity, 64 per cent.

barometer, corrected to read to sea level, at 8 A. M., 29.58: 3 P. M., 29.64. The temperature yesterday as recorded by the official thermometer is shown in the annexed 1908. 1908. - 80° 38° 6 P. M. - 30° 45° 0 P. M. - 41° 45° 12 M1d 3 P. M....

Lowest temperature, 33°, at 4:30 P. M. VASHINGTON FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW For eastern New York, eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, fair and colder to-day; partly cloudy to-morrow, followed by snow in the afternoon or at night; diminishing west winds.

For New England, fair and colder to-day; fair to morrow, followed by snow in west and south portions; brisk west winds diminishing. For the District of Columbia, Maryland and Virginla, fair and colder to-day; fair to-morrow, fol-lowed by snow or rain late in afternoon or at night;

fresh · northwest For western New York, snow flurries to-day and

Mr. Charles W. Temple, of Manchester, New Hampshire, aged 73, praises Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for its wonderful curative

Mr. Temple was enabled recently to celebrate his golden wedding anniversary, thanks to Duffy's, which cured him of pneumonia after having been confined to his bed for four long weary months.

He also finds Duffy's his only relief from bronchitis, with which he has suffered for years.

In an appreciative letter Mr. Temple says:
"I am nearly 73 years old and celebrated my golden wedding anniversary on November 15th last in the very best of health. "In February, 1904, I was taken sick with pneumonia and was laid up for four months. No one thought I would recover, and I had almost given up hope myself, when I decided to try Duffy's Pure

"It soon cured me and brought back my health and strength to me. I find Duffy's my only relief for bronchitis, with which I have suffered for years, and I am never without a bottle of your grand medicine. CHAS. W. TEMPLE, 63 Peacock St., Manchester, N. H., Dec. 22d, 1905.

Duffy's Pure Walt Whiskey

Is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic, builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and richness to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, it makes digestion perfect, and enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

Duffy's is the only Whiskey that has been recognized as a Medicine. This is a Guarantee. CAUTION.—Beware of so-called "cheap" imitations. A dangerous substitute is dear at any price, and you cannot risk trifling with your health. There is but one Dufty's Pure Mait Whiskey, and it is sold in bottles only, never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "old Chemist," on the label, and insist on having the genuine. You can get it at all druggists and grocers, or direct. $1.00 a bottle. Doctor's advice and medical booklet free. Dufty Mait Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

THE R'YAL GAMP OF HIGGINS

DIAMONDS? YES, SIR-GOLD? YES. SIR-MAHOGANY? Y'ARE RIGHT.

Maybe the Alderman Will Wear It to Church Pleasant Days, but Its Chief Use Will Be to Keep the Rain Off the Pienle of the James J. Spillane Association

The gold handled umbrella with a diamond setting which the James J. Spillane Association gave to Alderman Patrick Higgins of the Third district is not on exhibition at Higgins's saloon. After the presentation ceremonies at Miner's Theatre the heart of Jimmy Eagleton, who made the presentation speech, was so moved by the present of another umbrella, not diamond-studded but real silk, that he went about among the boys and raised the money to get a gold plate with an inscription put on the Alderman's flossy gamp. So back to the jeweller's it went, where it will be engraved with the inscription:

Presented to
ALDERMAN PATRICK HIGGINS
By the James J. Spillane Association, March 9, 1906. He is always good to us.

On Monday it will be put in a glass case in the alderman's saloon, and the drinks

Alderman Higgins stood by the bar vesterday and told all about it. "Cost $150," he said, "and it cost every cent of it, too. Yes, the diamond top can be taken off. It unscrews. I'm going to keep it in the safe, because it ain't an umbrella to carry every day. It's more than an umbrella. You touch a button and take out a screw and off comes the cover. Then you've got a solid mahogany gold headed cane that you can carry any. where. No, I won't carry it all the time. It's too nice for every day. I may wear it to church, and I've promised Jimmy Spillane that I'll take it to his picnic next spillane that I it take it to his pichic next summer, whether it rains or not. "What's that? Excuse me a minute. Bail did you say, Pat? Certainly. Just go down and see Jimmy. That'll be all

But I was telling you about the umbrella. The boys came to me and said they were going to have a blowout. When they got up this James J. Spillane Asso-ciation I had an idea that something was they got up this James J. Spillane Association I had an idea that something was in the wind, but I didn't have an idea that it was me they were after. All nice boys, too, the pick and choice of the young fellows of the ward.

"'Now, you know, there's been death in the family, boys,' says I, 'an' it wouldn't be right for me to go to a theatre with you—excuse me a minute. Patrick, it's about that boy of Boyle's. That's all right, but ye were a bye once yourself and threw stones, I'll bet. Now, what would he be doing not throwing stones, and him just a healthy, lively bye? It ain't got so far that you can't stop it. That's a good fellow, Patrick. Jimmie! set out a drink for Cassidy and I'll join you in a minute. Have a cigar, Patrick.

"Well, as I was saying, the boys said to me:

"If you don't come, we'll pull the place down over your ears!"

over your ears!

'If it's that bad you want me,' says I "If it's that Dad you want me, eays 1, I'll come, mourning or no mourning." Excuse me a minute. Places is all full up, Tom. You didn't speak quick enough.
Come around next week, and I'll see what I can do, Jimmie! Set us out a drink.
What'll you have, Tom? I'll join you in a "Well, as I was saying. Just after the first act, what does Eagleton do but stand up in the box and rap for order and say: "Gentlemen, you all know what brings you here." They all did, except me. But when they all began to look at me, I saw something was doing. I peeked around back of Jimmy Eagleton, and there I saw it, though he was holding it behind him. No. I won't tell you what he said. It ain't for me to repeat it. But ask anybody in the ward. Ver I made a speech but it wasn't me to repeat it. But ask anybody in the ward. Yes, I made a speech, but it wasn't a good one. I can't make good speeches.

"After we've had it in the show case for a day or two for all the boys to see, I'm going to unscrew the top off the way I said I would, and put it in the safe. I'll carry the rest on rainy days, but the diamonds is for the great times when the James I. Stillness are out times when the James J. Spillanes are out. They'll feel better if I keep it choice that way. Jimmie! Set a drink out for the boy, What are you drinking? Lemon seltzer for mine, always. Have a cigar, Excuse for mine, always. Have a come a minute. Say, Jawnnie

ALBANY, March 10 .- Lord's Court Building of New York City was incorporated today with a capital of $1,200,000, to take over as an investment the Lord's Court Building, at William street and Exchange place, New York city. The directors are Chauncey S. Truax, Albert R. Hogen and Frank L. Zabriskie of 111 Broadway, New York city. The Constitution League of the United States was incorporated to-day to assist in maintaining and enforcing the Constitution of the United States of America in all of its provisions and throughout its jurisdiction. The directors are Henry E. Tremain of Hill View, Warren county; William B. Derrick of Flushing, J. E. Mulholland of Lewis, Essex county; Mary-Church Terrill of Washington, D. C., and Andrew B. Humphrey of New York.

Great Annual Waist Sale.

We are offering immense varieties of up to date styles, from the simple tailor made to the most elaborately trimmed dress waist, showing the latest productions of the best home and foreign manufacturers, and being purchased previous to the present big advance in all cotton fabrics enables us to offer them at our usual moderate prices. Any description is entirely inadequate to convey to you the beauty and magnitude of the present display. Call, examine and convince yourself that our waist department is, as always, the best in the city, the very pink of perfection.

WAISTS—Of fine sheer lawn, buttoned front or back, long or short sleeves, trimmed with val. lace, fine tailored, tucks, pleats and hemstitching, and allover spaced embroidery, with short graduating tucks.

Value $2.00, at

WAISTS-Of Lingeric Cloth and Fine Persian Lawn, elaborately
WAISTS-Of Lingeric Cloth and embroidery, short or long trimmed front and back, with val. lace and embroidery, short or long sleeves. Value $3.50, at WAISTS-Of mercerized batiste, Persian lawns, trimmed with baby Irish lace and German vals, and allover embroideries, in Dutch neck

West 125th Street, 7th and 8th Avenues.

FOUGHT OVER A TRANSFER.

Conductor Stuck to Letter of Rule and Wouldn't Give One-Says Woman Bit Him. First blood was drawn yesterday in a contest over the new "Get your transfer when you pay your fare" order issued by the Metropolitan Street Railway a few days A woman passenger was accused of biting the fingers of a conductor, and he in turn was charged with knocking out two of her teeth.

The case came up in the West Side court The woman was Mary Russell of 320 West Forty-first street, who is husky. She boarded a Ninth avenue car at that street and, according to her story, asked for a transfer at once. The conductor paid no attention, she said, and refused to give her a transfer when she asked for it again.

"That made me angry," she said. "So I grabbed the bell rope and told them I would hold the car until I got the transfer that was coming to me. A whole lot of conductors got on the car and tried to put me off and then this conductor here struck me in the mouth and knocked out two of my teeth.

The conductor in the case was Thomas E. Howland of 62 West 109th street. He said that the woman didn't ask for a transfer until she saw that the car was not going up Amsterdam avenue, and that he had to refuse her then.

"She acted like a maniac," he said. "She commenced to make trouble at Fifty-ninth street, and kept it up all the way up town. I went out on the rear platform to save words with her, and she came out and save words with her, and she came out and grabbed a whole bunch of transfers from my pocket. While I was trying to take them away from her she bit my fingers so badly that they had to be dressed in Roose-velt Hospital."

velt Hospital."

Policeman Conboy, who arrested the two at Eighty-first street, said that the woman held up the car and half a dozen others for ten minutes.

"I think she was entitled to a transfer," said Magistrate Whitman.

The case was adjourned for a further hearing to day, and both prisoners were hearing to day, and both prisoners were

YALE MAN'S SENTENCE STANDS Rehearing of W. L. Lewis's Case Doesn't

Change Result-An Appeal Taken. NEW HAVEN, March 10 .- The effort of his counsel and friends to save Warren L. Lewis of Brooklyn, N. Y., a member of the junior class in the Sheffield Scientific School, from a ten days sentence in the New Haven county jail was unsuccessful in the police court to-day. The case has been tried a week ago and was reopened to admit of new evidence which Yale friends of the young man said would establish his inno-cence of the charge of resisting a policeman in a row at a local theatre.

The Judge to-day decided that the new evidence was not sufficient to clear the stunt and he reimposed the sentence of ten An appeal was taken to a higher court and Lewis was released on bail. William Bernard and Francis L. Snowden, Jr., both Sheffield men, who were mixed up in the same row, will be tried next week.

HER CATTLE POISONED.

Police Think It's Because She Offered Reward for Arrest of Murderer.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., March 10 .- Because Mrs. Esther R. Strawbridge of Moorestown offered a large reward for the arrest of the murderer of Miss Florence Allinson recently, a number of the lower class of negroes in that section have been very hostile in their attitude toward her. Yesterday five of her thoroughbred cattle were poisoned with arsenic, one of them a bull that had just been sold for $1,500.

The police assert that there were several negroes concerned in the affair and that one of them has made a confession.

COLER IRKS METZ AGAIN.

Comptroller Retires Behind Mosquito Bars and Leaves Com'r Hebberd Outside.

Comptroller Metz and Borough President Coler of Brooklyn have found something else to squabble over. The quarrel between them this time has to do with Charities Department in Brooklyn. Three sites are under consideration, one at Schermerhorn and Nevins streets, for which $75,000 is asked; another at Schermerhorn street and Boerum place. $50,000, and the Brooklyn Bank building, at Fulton and Clinton streets, price, $115,000. Mr. Metz has been inclined to favor the purchase of this last building, for the reason that it could be used at once, while the house upon either of the other sites would have to be torn down. Mr. Coler opposed the pur-chase of the bank, and in a statement he gave out he insimuated that Mr. Metz was nancially interested in the Brooklyr

That is not so," Mr. Metz said yesterday in reply. "I have never been a stock-holder in the Brooklyn Bank, nor have I even been a depositor. I think that the site is the best that could be selected, but since Mr. Coler has butted in again I will have nothing more to do with the matter, but will leave it to Commissioner Hebberd to choose the site he thinks the most de sirable."

$5,000 JOB FOR ULRICH.

Coler Appoints Anti-McCarren Leader Superintendent of Highways.

President Bird S. Coler of the Borough of Brooklyn appointed Frank J. Ulrich, former Deputy Bridge Commissioner, yesterday Superintendent of Highways at a salary of $5,000 a year. Although the amended city charter made provision for this iob no appointment was made by either Borough President Swanstrom or Borough President Littleton, the duties being assigned to an engineer in the department.

Mr. Ulrich is the leader of the Democratio forces in the Sixth Assembly district who posed to the management of Senator McCarren. The Municipal Owner ship leagues are not satisfied with the ap-pointment of Mr. Ulrich and accuse President Coler of political ingratitude for not selecting one of their adherents for the comfortable place.

QUEER PROOF OF CRUELTY. Mother and Children Separated by Gerr Society Wall for Each Other.

Mrs. Annie Wechser, 22 years old, of 58 Broome street, cried, became hysterical and finally fainted in the Essex Market police court yesterday morning when her two children were given to the Gerry society and she was sent to the workhouse for alleged cruelty to them.

Benjamin Wechser, the woman's husband, disappeared about a year ago. Since that time the neighbors have complained to the Gerry society that she was abusing her three-year-old daughter Pauline and Ida, aged 2. Agent Farrington of the society made the complaint, and in default of $200 the woman was committed for one en she was made to understand what had happened she sank down on her knees and clasped the younger child to her breast, crying that they should not take her chiliren from her A policeman picked up he child, and the mother became hysterical Kneeling on the floor she raved like a mad woman, until at last she fell back unconscious. The policeman who had been endeavoring to quiet her laid her down gently on the floor and water was brought. When she was revived she was led away still crying, while the two children sobbed sympathy and wanted to go with

Vogel Brothers A2nd Str. At 8th Apre

Five Specials Featured Below Are · the Newest Spring Models in Women's Tailored Suits

They are chosen from a collection of exquisite, chic styles in the very latest fashion. Now, as always, you will find our prices a third less than else-

The New Princess Suits of French Broadcloth

Exactly Like Cut. The chie Eton Jacket is one of the newest short bolero effects. plaited front and back and has an inlaid collar and vest braided and elaborated. Little ornaments of braid with threads of gold add elegance to the jacket, which is lined with taffeta. The sleeves are elbow length, with three straps at thosuff, lace, Princess circular skirt with side plaits below hips and deep fold at Colors: Black, lavender, eld rose, reseda, Alice gray and baby blue.

The New Panama Suits at In black, blue, rose, Alice gray, Alice blue, lilac, reseda and amethyst. Eton jacket, satin lined over fitted girdle, with rows of stitched straps down front, back and around bottom of jacket. Inlaid collar of silk, vest of Persian braid. Elbow sleeves, with frill of lace. Circular skirt has inverted and side plaits at

The New Chiffon $17.50 Panama Suits at Double breasted Eton Jacket over girdle, satin lined, outlined with silk braid, four stitched folds of the material down front and back. Inlaid collar of white broadcloth, embellished with soutache and finished with small gilt buttons. Elbow sleeve with trimmed cuffs and lace frill. Circular skirt has plaited panel front and back and deep fold around bottom. Colors: Black, rose, amethyst, Alice blue, gray and reseda.

The New Broadcloth Suits at Fitted Eton Jacket in plaited effect, satin lined, white vest and inlaid collar elaborated with soutache. Short sleeves, narrowed at elbow into cuff having small fancy buttons. Circular skirts with box and side plaits. Colors: Black, navy, Alice gray, reseda, violet and coral.

The New Chiffon $27.50 Panama Suits at

In black, cream, Alice gray, lilac, coral, Alice blue and raspberry. Eton-jacket over fitted girdle, lined with a superior quality taffeta. It has a shawl-collar of silk and tuckings, and circular plaitings piped with silk. Tiny gilt: buttons at front and back. Sleeves three-quarter style, very full, with a narrowed cuff. Gored circular skirt, with folds at bottom.

Vogel Brothers

Of Equal Importance to the Air We Breathe Is the Water We Drink.

DISTILLATION WILL REMOVE DISEASE GERMS All SCHULTZ Products are compounded with DISTILLED WATER and CHEMICALLY PURE SALTS

Artificial Mineral Water and Ginger Ale, Sarsaparilla and Lemon Soda.

Established 430-444 First Ave., N. Y. Tel. 3420 Madison Sq.

METROPOLITAN HITS BACK. Causes Arrest of Louis A. Julian for Tell-Instructor Accused of Blacking His Eye

ing Jury Fixing Stories. Louis A. Julian of 76 West Eighty-fifth street, formerly an investigator in the employ of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, was arrested yesterday upon complaint of James L. Quackenbush, general counsel for the company. The arrest was made on a warrant obtained from Magistrate Steinert on Friday night and served upon the defendant in the office of his lawyer, A. Edward Woodruff, at 111

Broadway. Julian was arraigned before Magistrate Steinert in the Tombs police court charged with a violation of section 254A of the Penal Code, which makes it a misdemeanor to wilfully transmit to any newspaper or magazine any statement which, if published, would be a libel In his complaint Quackenbush swears that Julian gave out a false and libellous statement to a newspaper on February 15. Shortly after severing his connection with the Metropolitan Julian began a crusade against his former employers, stating openly that the company fixed juries in suits in which it was interested. Following numerous conferences which Julian had with Judge Seabury of the City Court came the arrest and confession of William A. Tillinghast, a former employee of the Metropolitan, who declared that he was hired to sit in damage suits against the railway company for the purpose of swinging the jury its way.

Bail was nominally set for Julian in $500 for examination to-morrow, but he was with the Metropolitan Julian began a cru-for examination to-morrow, but he was paroled in custody of his counsel. Julian The alleged libellous statements they say I furnished to a newspaper are true. The man who gave me the information and later repeated it to the newspaper in question has made affidavit to the truth of it."

SUBPŒNAS MRS. BILLINGS. She Must Go to Court to Prosecute Fake

Ball Ticket Swindler. Arthur Ester, the young man who got $1 from Mrs. C. K. G. Billings of 678 Fifth avenue as a subscription for a fake ball was taken to the Yorkville police court yesterday. Detective Conroy asked Magistrate Moss to hold the man for a few days to see if he could get the complainant to appear in court.

"Why is the complainant not in court?"
the Magistrate wanted to know.

"It often happens that wealthy women do not like to go to a police court.

"There is no reason why a wealthy woman

"Inere is no reason why a weattly woman should not come to court as well as a poor woman," went on the Magistrate. "I will issue a subperna for Mrs. Billings and adjournt his examination until Monday. She must be here then to make the complaint."

The detective said that he expected to have more complaint and than one in court when day when the case come un again. on Monday when the case came up again.

The Magistrate held the prisoner
$1,000 bail for examination.

BOY PUT OUT OF THE GYM.

and Hiding From His Mamma. Charles J. Allen, physical instructor in the High School of Commerce, was summoned to the West Side court yesterday by thirteen-year-old Alfred Berringer of 141 West Sixty-third street. The boy told Magistrate Whitman that Allen drove him out of the gymnasium on Thursday night and struck him in the eye. His right eye was bruised.

The boy's mother told the Magistrate that when she went to the gymnasium to remonstrate she could find no trace of Allen for fifteen minutes. She believed he was hiding. Allen said that he had ordered the boy out because he had no business in the place; but denied that he had struck him. He said that a policeman was there all the while, who would have seen such an assault if it had occurred. "I asked that same policeman to help me," said Mrs. Berringer, "but he was too busy watching the basketball game to pay attention Magistrate Whitman asked a Gerry agent to investigate the case and report to-da

80 CENT GAS UNFAIR, So Senator P. H. McCarren Says in Defends

ing His Vote. Senator P. H. McCarren while at Democratic headquarters in Brooklyn yesterday was asked why he had voted against the 80 cent gas bill. He said:

"I voted against it because I thought it manifestly unfair. The Gas Commission is now examining the conditions in this county, and it would have been justice to have waited until it made a report. I do not think it possible for the Brooklyn-Union Gas Company to deliver gas at Sta-cents a thousand."

> The British Courts have just decided that only Pot Still whiskey is real whiskey.

This decision is virtually an endorsement of John Jameson Three Star Whiskey, both aughans Seeds Barclay Call or Write for Catalogue method and result.